

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

One of the few companies in India with a focused international trade/WTO practise group is ours. The practise group includes of eminent lawyers, including lawyers who have in the past served as government officials and helped shape India's trade policy. Because of this, the practise group is in a good position to comprehend the complexities involved in these issues and help clients as needed.

The International Trade/WTO practise group provides assistance with anti-dumping, safeguard, and other types of trade remedial investigations, as well as WTO Dispute and WTO Policy consultation services. The Group has considerable knowledge of both foreign trade policy and customs rules.

The Firm has defended clients in antidumping, safeguards, and countervailing actions before a variety of government agencies, including the European Commission, the Directorate General of Antidumping, the Directorate General of Safeguards, the Customs, Excise, and Service Tax Appellate Tribunal, the High Courts of India, and the Supreme Court of India.

We have represented a variety of exporters, importers and consumers from a variety of industries, such as those who produce steel, chemicals, rubber, paper, pharmaceuticals, and high-tech items. Additionally, we have provided advice to Indian exporters on anti-circumvention investigations in other countries.

"Leglux law office is a well-respected firm and its international trade practise has excellent performance," according to a quotation from Chambers Asia Pacific.